

A concussion is a brain injury

Broadcaster Mitch Holthus will emcee a sports concussions panel discussion to commemorate Brain Injury Awareness Month.

Panelists include:

- Brian McRae, Kansas City Royals center fielder from 1990 to 1994 and an analyst for ESPN's Baseball Tonight from 2000-2005. He has sustained at least five concussions in his baseball career.
- Dr. Jamie Pardini, a University of Pittsburgh Medical Center neuropsychologist who works with Dr. Mark Lovell, creator of ImPACT©: Immediate Post-concussion Assessment and Cognitive Testing.
- Dr. David Dyck, a Kansas City-area sports medicine physician who provides medical coverage for USA Volleyball and lectures nationally on sports medicine.

March 24, 2010
Doubletree Overland Park
10100 College Blvd

Doors open at 6:00; program begins at 6:30
Heavy appetizers will be served

Cost is $10 to attend. Go to www.biaks.org for more information.

Brain Injury Association of Kansas
and Greater Kansas City

Get the facts.